Part 1- Initial Research

Directions: Use your research skills to identify five (5) Indigenous and/or LGBTQIA+ historical figures who stand out to you and have had a positive impact on their community.

Research Tips

- Start with Google and identify reliable sources / Wikipedia & blogs are only for fueling further research

1. Check the domain name- .edu and .gov are most reliable / .org can be but review organization's purpose/agenda

- Universities/Colleges
- Government Institutions
- Reputable News Organizations / PBS / NPR / Associated Press News

2. Take a close look at the source- Authors & their credentials/ Citing of other credible sources / Date of Publication

3. Search for additional information to back up what you've found- Try to verify its authenticity and legitimacy using other reliable sites.

Identifying Reliable Sources

Directions: Begin your research by entering keywords into a Google search bar and identifying credible sources that contain meaningful information about Indigenous and/or LGBTQIA+ historical figures.

What keywords did you use in your Google search? List searches made.	What source did this Google search lead you to? Copy link below.	Which Indigenous and/or LGBTQIA+ Historical Figures will you be highlighting in your project?
Google Search #1 :	Source Link:	Figure #1:
Google Search #2:	Source Link:	Figure #2:
Google Search #3:	Source Link:	Figure #3:
Google Search #4- If needed :	Source Link:	Figure #4:

Figure #4:	Finding #1: Finding #2: Finding #3: Finding #4: Finding #5: Finding #6:

Part 3- Background Stories

Directions: Utilize your research findings to create a Background Story of 4+ sentences for each Indigenous or LGBTQIA+ figure that you chose to research about including notable lived experiences and important contributions to the community.

Guiding Questions:

- What important information can you share about this historical figure's life? Consider all stages of their life.
- Why is this historical figure important to their community? What important contributions did they make?

1. Figure #1 Background Story:

2. Figure #2 Background Story:

3. Figure #3 Background Story:

4. Figure #4 Background Story:

5. Figure #5 Background Story:

Part 4- Visual Presentation

Directions: Create a Visual Presentation that features each figure you researched on Google Slides or Canva.

Each figure should have a slide that includes:

1. A portrait frame
 2. A graphic background
 3. A high quality picture or illustration added on top of a graphic background
 4. Background Story of 4+ sentences
- Portrait Example #1: Kehinde Wiley, Portrait of Toks Adewetan \(The King of Glory\), 2016
